

DRESS THE PART

What is a Dirndl?

The Dirndl is a quintessential part of traditional German women's clothing. A traditional dirndl typically consists of a blouse, skirt, and apron. The blouse is often white, with puffed sleeves and a lower neckline, and is worn under the bodice of the dress.

What are Lederhosen?

Lederhosen is a traditional piece of clothing generally associated with mountainous regions of German-speaking Central Europe. The word lederhosen is translated into English as "leather breeches."

We would love to see the residents of Schleswig, out of town friends & family or anyone who just loves to be part of the fun, dress up in these traditional German outfits.
